The academic session 2023-2024 of the University is going to start at a very optimistic and progressive note.

With two constituent colleges viz., College of Veterinary Sciences and College of Dairy Science & Technology offering undergraduate, M.V.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees and two diploma courses namely Veterinary Livestock Development Diploma (VLDD) & Diploma in Veterinary Laboratory Technology (DVLT). Four private colleges/institutes offering undergraduate (B.V.Sc. & A.H.) degree and sixteen private institutes offering Veterinary Livestock Development Diploma (VLDD) located at various places across Haryana state are affiliated with LUVAS. The colleges/institutes offering diploma courses are under the control of Institute of Para Veterinary Sciences. LUVAS is producing world class professionals; diploma holders, graduates and postgraduates (Master's and Ph. D.) to serve the veterinary, animal husbandry and dairy sectors at regional, national and global levels.

The College of Veterinary Sciences has a glorious past, formidable present and a promising future for development of veterinary education and research. The college has been playing a crucial role in the development of livestock sector as an instrument of rural development through its multifarious activities since 1948 and it is celebrating its platinum jubilee this year. The broader mandate of the college is to protect animal health and increase production through creative higher education and research in veterinary sciences. The College has 18 departments with well qualified faculty and modern laboratory infrastructure suitable for practical training of veterinary professionals. Veterinary Clinical Complex of the college is equipped with modern multispecialty infrastructure for diagnosis and treatment of infectious and non-infectious diseases of livestock and poultry.

College of Dairy Science and Technology was established in 2014 to strengthen the dairy production and processing sector in the state of Haryana. With its 5 Departments, the primary mission of college is to develop highly professional dairy specialists through value based education, research and training in dairy technology for meeting technological and societal needs.

Institute of Para Veterinary Sciences (IPVS) has been established in February, 2014 with the purpose of producing Para-Veterinarians to assist the Registered Veterinary Practitioners. The Para-Veterinarians provide minor veterinary services and assist the Veterinarians for health care and management of livestock and thus contribute towards the development of Veterinary Animal Husbandry and Dairy sector. They also play an important role in veterinary extension services and are considered an integral part of veterinary service delivery system. The demand of Para-Veterinarians has increased with the opening of new Veterinary Hospitals, Veterinary Poly Clinics, Diagnostic Laboratories, Dairy Plants, Livestock Farms and Milk Processing units in Government as well as Private sector.

The university's alumni are well-established in India and internationally, serving the sector in various positions and excelling in their own exceptional enterprises, with high stature recognitions in academics, research, and other fields. Many of them have attained top positions of administrative services and serving the country at various levels.

The university's academic reputation has always attracted qualified individuals from all around India and internationally. I hope that the new academic session 2023-24 will also attract the best talent from all over India, and that students will excel in academics, sports, and extra-curricular activities, transforming them into competent professionals to assist the animal husbandry and dairy sectors in achieving the anticipated socioeconomic national goals. A large number of national and international conferences, seminars and workshops are organized by the University. Such events expose students to a wide range of experiences and instill qualities such as leadership and teamwork, which will be useful in their future careers.
