Dear Parent

Lockdown period of 21 days has given us time to introspect. Can we use this emergency situation for our personal growth?

Probably yes!

Try to bring changes in yourself and your family (especially your children who are students) which have been hindrance in your success.

For example

- Do exercise regularly in the morning.
- Engage yourself as well as your family in reading good and spiritual books like Bhagavad Geeta, Ramayana which is often found in the homes but are not read generally.
- Give practice to your children who often do spelling mistakes.
- Utilize time in learning computers
- Learn and try new cooking recipes
- Share and listen the experience of the elderly people of your family.
- Utilize your time in your favorite pastime which you were not able to do in your busy schedule

This is the best time to live for your family and yourself. You won't have ever got such family moments earlier. Stay home, stay blessed, stay happy, live your life to the fullest This is actually the time you were waiting for long... situation is not in favour obviously but look at the positive side. Stay calm and happy.
